"Compassion"

Webster reminds us that compassion is "sympathetic consciousness of others' distress together with a desire to alleviate it." When we put that definition to the test for God, we realize that His "compassion" for us is overwhelming. He is so concerned about our distress—our sin and He is the only one who can alleviate the problem.

Last month we celebrated Easter and the message of God's compassion for us was once again proclaimed everywhere. God did something about the condition of man's soul by sending Jesus to pay the penalty of sin which opens the door for us to be received by God once we believe in the work of Jesus on the cross for us.

Besides knowing that God is there for me every minute of every day, I also know that He has given me a number of friends who care deeply for me. From February 9th through March 14th I felt the compassion of many people as I struggled with car problems.

I was returning home from a visit to one of the EG's churches in Atlanta GA on Saturday, February 9th when my car started giving me problems in North Carolina. I know God's compassion was on me as I was able to find a Good Year shop that was open and after 5 1/2 hours was back on the road heading to PA. BUT the problem was not solved. So for weeks afterward I had the car back in the shop while my mechanic worked to discover the problem. After weeks of frustration and money that was spent the problem was finally solved. Through that time many people came to me and offered support and help financially.

I experienced compassion through the kindness of those individuals. I know for a fact, that God's compassion to me is real every day.
